DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Claims 1-8 in the response to restriction filed on February 4, 2005 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the inventions are not distinct even though the classifications thereof are different. This is not found persuasive because of the reason described in paragraph 2 in the restriction requirement. Note that the classification difference is not the only reason for the restriction requirement. Therefore, Claims 9-17 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, Claims 1-8 recites the broad recitation "a polyhydroxyorganyl radical" recited in Claims 1 and 5, and the claim also recites "in particular a glycerol, .... Or amphoglycinate radical" which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

The method of Claim 5 causes confusion because it is not clear how to prepare an organopolysiloxane wherein R<sup>4</sup> is a glycerol, polyglycerol, etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ichinohe (US 5 385 730).

Ichinohe discloses an organopolysiloxane copolymer represented by formulae (I), (III) or (IV). (col. 1, line 56 to col. 4, line 2 and Examples)

6. Claim 5 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Ichinohe does not teach or fairly suggest the method set forth in the instant claim.

7. Claims 2-3 and 6-8 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 1712

Ichinohe does not teach or fairly suggest the organopolysiloxane and the method for preparing the organopolysiloxane set forth in the instant claims.
